

The Fault in Our Stars

The Fault in Our Stars is about a young teenage girl called Hazel, who is diagnosed with lung cancer and attends a cancer support group. At first she is reluctant to going to support group because of the same old repertoire, but soon realises it was a good idea. Hazel meets a young teenage boy called Augustus Waters. He is witty and charming but is also diagnosed with a rare bone cancer called osteosarcoma.

Be ready to laugh, cry and then come back for more, as you embark on this wonderful roller coaster ride of emotions.

It's definitely recommended for girls 12 – 18, if you're up for a read.

10/10
