

The Field

This sunny day fills my soul with wonder as the flowers show their passionate colour.

The long, green grass sways softly in the sun.

It dances with nature, it looks so fun.

I lay in the middle looking at the sky blue,
so peaceful, yet the colour of sad.

Who knew?

My happiness cannot blow away with the clouds,
the big white pillows just look so proud.

This unbelievable place will make you yield,

So, come and enjoy the view of the field.
