Rationale

Surfing Studies has been developed in response to demand in the local area and in conjunction with industry experts. It will provide students with the opportunity to participate in surfing in a way that brings them knowledge and understanding, skills, health, enjoyment, wellbeing and invaluable industry experience. This course builds upon students' knowledge, understanding and skills through further in-depth study of the surfing industry. It incorporates a wide range of valuable industry, lifestyle and leisure experiences. The aim of this course is to develop skills that allow students to participate in the surfing industry in a variety of contexts and to appreciate the culturally diverse, yet interconnected world in which they live. This course is for any student with an interest in the surfing industry and wanting to improve their knowledge, understanding and practical skills.
